1. The first part of the report is a general description of the project. It includes the title, the objectives, the scope, and the methodology. The title is "The Effect of the New Tax Law on the Small Business." The objectives are to determine the impact of the new tax law on the small business and to identify the factors that influence the impact. The scope is limited to the small business in the United States. The methodology is a combination of qualitative and quantitative methods.

2. The second part of the report is a detailed description of the data collection and analysis. It includes the data sources, the data collection methods, the data analysis methods, and the results. The data sources are the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and the Small Business Administration (SBA). The data collection methods are surveys and interviews. The data analysis methods are statistical analysis and content analysis. The results show that the new tax law has a positive impact on the small business.

3. The third part of the report is a discussion of the findings and conclusions. It includes the findings, the conclusions, and the recommendations. The findings are that the new tax law has a positive impact on the small business. The conclusions are that the new tax law is a good policy for the small business. The recommendations are that the government should continue to support the small business.

4. The fourth part of the report is a list of references. It includes the books, articles, and other sources used in the report. The references are as follows: IRS (1997), SBA (1998), and others.

5. The fifth part of the report is a list of appendices. It includes the survey questions, the interview questions, and other materials used in the report. The appendices are as follows: Appendix A (Survey Questions), Appendix B (Interview Questions), and others.

1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) and Chlorophyll b (Chl b) are the two main photosynthetic pigments in green plants. They are responsible for capturing light energy and converting it into chemical energy through the process of photosynthesis. Chl a is the primary pigment, while Chl b acts as an accessory pigment, transferring energy to Chl a.
